Threadneedle Communications

Wins Financial PR Company of the year 2011

Threadneedle Communications, is delighted to announce that it has been voted ‘Financial PR Company of the year 2011’ in the annual Growth Company Awards. This prestigious award was announced at a recent event hosted by Vitesse Media.

The awards are completely impartial, founded on comprehensive qualitative research undertaken by Growth Company Investor based on views canvassed from the CEOs of all the AIM companies to discover opinions on their current advisers.

This feedback, identified the ‘highest approval ratings from client companies’ and narrowed the field of competitors for this coveted award to a short list of half a dozen agencies, including some of the largest international consultancies based in the UK.

From this list, Threadneedle Communications has been selected as the best in its class by a panel of judges drawn from eminent City figures including fund managers, brokers and journalists.

Graham Herring, Managing Director, Threadneedle Communications commented: “On behalf of the whole team, I am delighted that we have received this award. Because it is based on views expressed by of the CEOs of all AIM companies on their advisers, I feel it is a genuine vote of confidence in the advice and service that we at Threadneedle provide to our clients and acknowledges all the hard work that the team puts in to make this a successful consultancy.”
